

Edgeworth Child Care Centre Inc.

Multicultural Policy

Aim

Edgeworth Child Care Centre aims to provide a service and program which recognises that Australia is a multicultural society, where different cultural groups co-exist harmoniously, and are free to maintain and practice their culture, while recognising that all are equal as individuals.

Our program will recognise the importance of similarities as well as differences in various cultures. We will incorporate the cultural and linguistic backgrounds of families, educators/staff and the community, and include experiences and materials which meet the individual needs and interests of the children.

It is also equally important to introduce children to a variety of different cultures, not just to the cultures, represented within this service.

We will support families of non-English speaking backgrounds in every way and if we cannot, we endeavour to put them in contact with the right organisation that can assist them.
